The next Detector Connector is April 14th!

The next Detector Connector is coming up! These are informal monthly chats with the AIS Detectors team around a topic of interest. Come with your questions on the topics, stories or experiences of your own to share, or just to take some time to connect with the team, AIS Detectors volunteers, and others interested in aquatic invasive species issues in Minnesota.

Save the date for our next Detector Connector on April 14th at 10am and bring your favorite morning beverage as we gather again! The February topic is the rescheduled AIS REGULATIONS session and we're excited to be welcoming a special guest again. Kelly Pennington is an Invasive Species Prevention Program Consultant at Minnesota Department of Natural Resources.

Anyone is welcome to attend and participate! To attend the Detector Connector, click the button below. It will bring you to a registration page and after entering your name and email it will give you the joining information for the Zoom meeting. The meeting will open at 10 am on April 14th. We hope to see you then!
